INDIGNANT COLORED PEOPLE. A Mass Meeting Discusses the Recent She

A CITIZENS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION SUG-GESTED-SOME PLAIN SPEAKING. Last night the lecture room of the Metropol itan Baptist Church, on R street, was crowded from the door to the pulpit with men and women who had gathered in response to a call for a mass meeting to discuss the circumstances attending the killing of Charles Lomax by Poiceman Mellen in Howardtown a week ago. The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. R. S. Laws of Pittsburg. Rev. Robert Johnson, pastor of the church, resided, and in calling the meeting to order he said that the blood of one of their number had been spilled and he wanted the matter discussed calmly and without any excitement. The meeting, he said, was to be an orderly one, as he would not have any other kind of a gathering in his church. He thought the matter to be discussed was as to where and under what be discussed was as to where and under what circumstances the shooting was committed. It is claimed, he said, that Mr. Lomax was not justly killed. The people, he said, are not asleep, nor are the churches asleep.

"We have cleared out this part of the city," he said, "not 'Hell's Bottom,' but 'Paradise Hill.' The people who are calling it 'Hell's Bottom' are twenty years behind the time."

The chairman said he had read the printed accounts of the shooting and all he had to say was that if there was any one who would come forward and say that there is a hole in the house made by the bullet from Lomax's pistol he would say that the officer was right.

would either have struck the officer or entered the wall. The whole truth, he said, was that an officer had been shot and the policeman started in pursuit of the crowd. He followed Lomax and entered the house, supposing he was pur-suing the man who had fired the shot. Upon entering the house, so the officer says, he began firing. After giving in detail the circumstances of the shooting he referred to the killing of a policeman several years ago, when, he said, the officer was killed as a fool.

A MANIA FOR NEGRO BLOOD. to a room and gave warning that he would kill any man who entered. The officer entered and was killed. Referring to the officer in the case under discussion he said he seemed to have a mania for negro blood. If his record had been good it would have been different, but his record, the minister said, was not good. An officer, he said, should not be a brute and a lion, but he should be a man deserving of sa lion, but he should be a man deserving of respect and then every good citizen would respect and assist him. The speaker said that in his investigation he saw no trace of a bullet from Lomax's pistol, and denounced the beating of the man after the pistol had done its work. He said he had heard that the officer's removal had been requested, but a man who makes the largest number of arrests of six-months'-old/children, and negro children at that is considered a big. and negro children at that, is considered a big officer in this city, while in other cities the man who makes the fewest arrests and has the quict-est beat is considered the best officer. These remarks, he said, do not apply to all the officers, as some of them are good men. The min-ister said that Officer Mellen was a coward and ought to be removed from the force and pertted to drive a coal cart. He said some mitted to drive a coal cart. He said some one had intimated that this meeting would stir up things and put many of the officers' lives in jeopardy, but that is not so.

"We are all willing to help a good man when he makes an arrest, only we want the man to be an officer and not a coward." He suggested that a committee be appointed to wait upon the Commissioners and ask for the officer's removal. MR. MILTON HOLLAND'S INVESTIGATION

CHRISTMAS TREE at Great China and Japan Mr. Milton M. Holland was next introduced, Tea Co. tomorrow. Bring the children from 7 and he told of having made a personal investito 10 a. m. and 6 to 9 p. m. 731 7th st., bet. gation of the affair. He referred to the arrest gation of the affair. He referred to the arrest of Solomon Page for merely talking to the officers and said that when Page's wife, who is in a delicate condition came up, she too was placed under arrest and dragged along the street like a dog. Then ft was, he said, that George Page, the woman's son, came up and fired, as any noble boy would have done. "When the Page boy comes back and surrenders," he said, "I for one will help to defend him."

The speaker then condemned the action of the officer in killing Lomax and said he would not admit that Lomax had fired at the officer.

Makes a better present for your boy than a chest of fine tools, containing 28 separate pieces, all of the very best quality and fully warranted? We have them at prices ranging burned the officer scoat. "Nobody was there," From $5 to $25?

had been discharged it would at least have burned the officer's coat. "Nobody was there," he said, "except the policeman who killed Lomax, and why is it not possible for the officer to have fired the pistci after he took it out of the house?"

Speaking of the services and if the pistoi had been discharged it would at least have burned the officer's coat. "Nobody was there," he said, "except the policeman who killed Lomax, and why is it not possible for the officer to have fired the pistoi after he took it out of the house?"

Speaking of the services and if the pistoi had been discharged it would at least have burned the officer's coat. "Nobody was there," he said, "except the policeman who killed Lomax, and why is it not possible for the officer to have fired the pistoi after he took it out of the house?"

Speaking of the verdict of the coroner's jury he said he was told by a member of the jury that he did not sign such a verdict. He said that when the case was under discussion the question was asked if the fact that Lomax had a pistol in his hand did not justify the officer. The coroner said "yes." In this instance he said the coroner was mistaken.

Mr. Holland suggested that something must be done besides meeting here and speaking. Something, he said, must be done toward having the rights of the colored people more respected. He thought a committee should be appointed to wait on District Attorney Cole and have him to wait on District Attorney Cole and have him present the case to the grand jury Another committee, he said, should wait upon Congress and ask for the repeal of the arms and navy clause governing police appointments, so that native-born citizens can be made guardians of the peace instead of so many people who are strangers in this community as well as in the country, and then lots of this brutality will becember 23 to January 1, inclusive, and will be valid for return passage until January 4, 1892.

Low Rates via B. & O. R. H. for Christmas and New Year holidays the B. & O. R. R. will sell tickets at greatly reduced rates at all stations east of the Ohio river. Tickets will be sold from December 23 to January 1, inclusive, and will be valid for return passage until January 4, 1892.

LAWYER HEWLETT'S VIEWS. Lawyer E. M. Hewlett was the next speaker introduced and he began his remarks by saying of the st. — 4dc. that a good law-abiding citizen bad been foully murdered. He referred to two other instances in which policemen used personal violence toward colored people. In one case, he said, Policeman Sanford shot a colored man for nothing and he was fined $25 by Judge Miller. Mr. Hewlett said he called the attention of the Mr. Hewlett said he called the attention of the Commissioners to the case and their responses was: "This is not a case for judicial investigation." In the other case, he said, Policeman Cooney assaulted a respectable colored woman—a member of the Nineteenth Street Baptist Church—and he, too, was fined $25 by Judge Miller.

"It is often said," Mr. Hewlett continued, "that the colored people constitute the colored people col

"that the colored people constitute the crimi-nal class, but from personal observation I say that of every ninety-nine persons arrested seventy-five of them should never have been arrested."

In conclusion he said that when an officer i right it is the duty of the citizens to assist him, and when he is wrong they will condomn him. There is no use in asking for the removal of the Stores, 501 and 503 7th st, corner 7th and E officer, but have him arrested and then there n.w. A beautiful souvenir entitled the Home will be no necessity for his removal.

COL. PERRY CARSON'S PROTEST.

The next person introduced was Col. Perry Carson, and he said he was present to enter his protest against the killing of Lomax. He said that years ago, when there were bad people here, very few people were murdered, but now since they have been civilized there is a murder since they have been civilized there is a murder every night. Ho said he had seen drunken policemen on their beats, and he had seen one such officer taken off his beat, but he was never brought to trial. He cited other similar incidents and told of taking his own son from a drunken policeman. He said that in South Washington he had seen police officers going pellmell into saloons, but the poor colored people dare not say a word for fear of something happening in the future.

"Until you learn to do like white men," he said, "and strike back when you are struck you will never be able to demand respect." He told his hearers that they would have to fight and contend for their rights like the Irish people before they could hope to demand the proper respect. He assured the audience that he would not permit an officer to enter his house, kill his son and walk out. He advised everybody to purchase a musket and keep it in their house to play with. "My sons-in-law each have one," he said, "and if you ask them what they have them for they will tell you to play with;" and if you ask them who told them to say that they will answer 'de ole man."

MR. CALVIN CHASE'S RESOLUTION.

MR. CALVIN CHASE'S RESOLUTION.

fered a resolution setting forth that as the killing of Charles Lomax, by Officer Mellen was, in the opinion of the citizens in mass meeting assembled, unjustifiable and the verdict of the coroner's jury contrary and inconsistent with the evidence that was given before the said jury, and believing that the 'circumstances of the killing of Mr. Lomax should be investigated by the grand jury, was resolved that a committee of fifteen citizens be appointed by the chair to wait upon the United States dis-COMMITTEE TO ASK THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO HAVE AN INVESTIGATION BY THE GRAND JURYcommittee of fifteen ettizens be appointed by the chair to wait upon the United States dis-trict attorney and arge him to have the killing of Mr. Lomax investigated by the grand jury,

"Who is responsible for this brutal police force?" he asked. "Major Moore," he responded, "and it is your duty to inform the President that there is a man in authority who is so prejudiced against the colored race." He seconded the remarks made by Col. Carson and others and referred to Major Moore as the "democratic pro-slavery negro-hating chief of police."

> Jacob Dana's Assailant Arrested. The mystery surrounding the robbery of the oung man Jacob Dana on Saturday night has been explained. Young Dana lives at Ivy City, and on Saturday night he purchased a suit of clothing and early Sunday morning was found wandering around in a dazed condition and badly wounded about the head. All he could tell was that he was at 7th street and New York tell was that he was at ith street and or an elec-avenue about 11:30 o'clock waiting for an electric car, when a young man approached him and persuaded him to go off with him. Dana was sent to the Garfield Hospital, and yesterday his father was informed by a boy that he assault and robbery, which was made saw the assault and robbery, which was made near the terminus of the electric road, and he gave the name of the assailant as William Willis, a boy of eighteen, who lived near him. The father reported the facts to Lieut. Kelly and the latter informed Lieut. Gessford by telephone, and Officer Fetfield went to Willishouse and arrested and brought him to the eighth precinct station. Dana was subsequently brought from the hospital and identified him as the assailant.
